VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20, 1873. NO. 151.

FOURTH ANNUAL FAIR OF THE ROANOKE AND TAR RIVER AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—We have received a copy of the premium list for the Fourth Annual Fair of this thriving and successful Society. The premiums are extensive in their scope and liberal in amount, and are a strong evidence of the past judicious management of the officers and Executive Committee of the Society. The Fair will be held on the 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st of October next on the grounds of the Society near Weldon, and as successful as the past Fairs have been, the coming one has strong indications of outstripping all of its predecessors. The fortunate location of these grounds, their convenient arrangement and general attractiveness have been too often spoken of to need a description now. Suffice it to say, until the establishment of the new State Fair Grounds, near this city, they were decidedly the best in the State and were the recipient of high compliment from all who saw them. The success and prosperity which have attended the operations of this Society from its inception up to the present, does not only reflect credit upon the untiring industry and energy displayed by its managers, but upon the whole people of that country, who are ever alive to all undertakings calculated to advance the interest of their section and add to the importance of the State. There is no section of this whole country, from Maine to the Rio Grande, that is more richly endowed, and whose people are more hopitable, more liberal or who have a greater and more becoming State pride than those of the Roanoke and Tar river section of this State. They are awake to their own interest, and will advance it in all proper ways.

As we have before announced, Gen. M. W. Ranson, (we call him "General," for that is his proudest title, and of which his children in coming years will be prouder than that of United States Senator,) will deliver the Annual Address. Too well is this distinguished son of this State known for us to speak of his talent and eloquence. He is our Cincinnatus—soldier, statesman and farmer.

This imperfect article should not be closed without allusion to the President of the Society, Richard H. Smith, Esq., of Scotland Neck, who has been at the head of the Society since its organization, and to its success has given his time, means and talent. Besides being a gentleman of rare culture, he is a thorough farmer, and as a practical and scientific agriculturist has no superior in the State. To his disinterested and zealous labors is the Society indebted for a large portion of their prosperity. In making this allusion to the President no disparagement is intended to the other officers; all have discharged their full measure of duty, and are entitled to an honorable recognition.

THAT COTTON FACTORY AGAIN.—We do not intend to allow the subject of factories, in and near Raleigh, to rest until the attention of the public is fixed on it.

We have, of course, no personal interest in the matter beyond that of any other inhabitant of the city.

We call upon the city authorities to make an offer of exemption from municipal taxation for a limited term (say ten years,) on the machinery, fixtures and products of all permanent factories inaugurated in the city within the next two years.

We make this request to his Honor, the Mayor, and to each one of the Commissioners. We ask each one of these gentlemen to take the matter under advisement, and to publish the offer of exemption as above stated.

We further invite the attention of manufacturers of all kinds of cotton spinning and cotton weaving machinery to the probability of making sale of some of their products in Raleigh, and we will cheerfully give place in these columns to estimates of the cost and profit of cotton spinning, as well of all other kinds of manufacturing industry.

We expect to warm up on this subject. We want sympathy and co-operation; but if we can't get it, we—well we will try to build a factory ous lves.

DEMAND FOR THE STOWE WATERMELON SEED—USEFULNESS OF NEWSPAPERS.—We announced yesterday that at the request of Col. Stowe, of Gaston, we would distribute among our farmers the seed from the mammoth watermelon sent us a few days ago and which weighed sixty-four pounds and a half.

From early morn till dewy eve, applications for a small quantity were made to this office thoughout the whole day yesterday, by persons anxious to raise fine watermelons thus showing the usefulness of the public press in disseminating information. Let advertisers take a hint.

We did not count the number of persons who besieged us in quest of the Stowe watermelon seed; but as no man was allowed to have more than a dozen, a great many were accommodated.

STILL SPREADING.—Only a few days ago we announced that a Council of the Friends of Temperance had been formed at Egypt, Chatham county. Since then, we learn from Brother Whitaker, the Secretary of the State Council of North Carolina, that Mr. McKenzie, the State Lecturer, has organized another Council in Iredell county, and that Mr. Munroe, attorney-at-law, of Snow Hill, Greene county, has organized still another at Farmville, Pitt county, with 27 charter members. This makes 175 Councils which have been organized in our State The Friends make no great flourish of trumpets, but in their quiet way they continue to spread. We heartily wish them success.

MASQUERADE BALL AT BEAUFORT.—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from Messrs. Charlotte & Lambert, managers, to attend a grand masquerade ball to be given at the Atlantic Hotel, Beaufort, to-morrow evening.

HERE AND THERE—

The height of cupid-ity—Love making.

The most cue-rious of games—Billiards.

A postmaster general—General delivery.

Poor farming—Ploughing the deep.

The most likely thing to become a woman? Why a little girl.

The favorite text with evil doers—Pretexts.

A rise in fur—When the cat gets her back up.

A match in high life—A lucifer in the attic.

Something that doesn't mind pinching—Snuff.

Some one has said that "the noblest thing on earth is a man talking reason and his wife listening to him."

A man in Galesburg, Illinois, has been fined three dollars for "publicly spanking his daughter."

At the Vienna Exposition a young American woman recently bought a set of sparkling jewelry and paid for it with a Confederate bill of twenty dollars, the salesman not being a well informed person.

Of all things in the world that are "better late than never," going to bed certainly ranks first.

Why does the sting of a bee carry conviction with it? Because it makes you a bee-leaver at once.

As the quickest way of making a fortune, a cotemporary suggests marrying a fashionable young lady and selling her clothes.

"Mama! don't forget to ask papa about going to Brighton for a fortnight!" "Hush, dear! I'm afraid it won't do! You know how dreadfully the seaside upsets papa for the first week always!" "Yes; but papa needn't come down till the second week, you know!"

A man up in Iowa, by the name of Silas Chew, was married the other day to a girl named Anna Good. The most obtuse person would instantly call to mind the Scriptural injunction, S. Chew that which is evil, cleaving only to that which is Good."

The owner of a tenement house informed his tenants that he was going to raise their rent all round, whereupon they held a meeting and passed a resolution of thanks to the landlord for "promising to raise their rent, as the times were hard, and they feared that without his assistance it could not be raised at all."

THE LAST CHANCE.—The winding up sale at auction at the store of Messrs. Primrose, Petty & Newsom promises to be the most interesting of the season. The sale will commence at 8 o'clock this evening, and will be positive and without reserve. The goods to be sold consists partly of rich laces, edgings, ribbons, trimmings, etc., etc., and all goods remaining uncalled for will be resold on that occasion; also fixtures, furniture, &c., belonging to the establishment. This will be positively the closing out sale, and all will find it to their advantage to be present.

TRACTS OF VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE IN WARREN COUNTY.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that several tracts of valuable land, lying on Big Fishing Creek, Warren county, will be sold on the 26th inst. These lands are situated in the best cotton producing section of the county; many of the adjoining farms produce a bale to the acre. Those who wish to invest in good land would do well to read the advertisement.

INVITED.—John B. Neathery, Esq., Deputy Grand High Priest of the Royal Arch Chapter of North Carolina, has been invited by the Grand High Priest of Pennsylvania, Charles E. Meyer, Esq., to be present on the occasion of the dedication of the Grand Chapter Room of the new Masonic Temple, at Philadelphia, on the 29th of September. We learn that Mr. Neathery will accept the invitation.

MAJ. DANIEL S. HILL.—It is with deep regret that we have to announce the death of this most estimable gentleman, which took place at his residence, near Louisburg, on the morning of the 18th inst., after a protracted and painful sickness. We will give in to-morrow's issue a short history of his very useful life.

RETURNED.—Mayor Wesley Whitaker has returned to his post. We are glad to learn that his daughter, Mrs. Dixon, is in a fair way to recover her health. Mr. Whitaker reports that the crops in Wayne, Lenoir and Greene counties are looking splendidly, especially cotton.

STATE OF THE THERMOMETER.—The Thermometer yesterday was as follows at Branson's Book Store:

Galesburg, Illinois, has forfeited the renown which she retained in former years as a "Black Abolition Hole." She now refuses to admit colored children to her public schools. She refused last Friday to lend the colored citizens an American flag to carry in the procession. On the same day a respectable colored man attempted to procure a cup of tea or coffee there, but he was repulsed from three or four restaurants and eating-houses on account of his color.

A Rochester correspondent asks "has old Brownlow gone to h—ll yet?" As the telegraph brings us no intelligence of a row or revolution there, we take it for granted that he has not.—Courier Journal.

Tennyson's son is to be made a baronet, the poet-laureate himself refusing all titular distinction from the Crown.

A MILITIA GENERAL IN A FIX AT CAPE MAY.—A Cape May correspondent exposes a Major General of millitia who was the victim of a sad stroke of misfortune recently. He went there without a bathing costume to breast the foaming billows, but being so many others disporting themselves in the sea he experienced a longing to enter the water, and finally borrowed his son's habiliments for a plunge in the ocean. The garments were a little small, but a few openings here and there nicely laced up served to adjust them to his person, and he boldly plunged in Mounting one wave higher than therest with, a good deal of effort, the exetion, ripped the costume from stem to tern—as the sailors say. The general was at once in a most perplexing predicament. Swim to England he couldn't, and go ashore in the face and eyes of a gaping crowd was not exactly the thing to do in his condition. So he remained in the water until a thoughtful lad, observing his plight, sent to the hotel or her water-proof, which the gay general donned and then waded ashore.

The Paris Figaro publishe an interesting story, which it credts to an American paper entitled the Journal de Vermont—a publication not very well known at home. The story stated that a band of New Hampshire assassins had been making much trouble for many months, murdering al persons whom they seized. Recently he police came suddenly upon them, and they fled In their flight they ran past a photographer. Quick as thought he turned his instrument toward them, and took them on the full run. He made out a picture from the negative. The whole gang were identified a neighboring farmers, and were all arrested the next day. Boucicault will probably adapt this story for his next play.

There is great complaint of the cattle plague in the farther West. In four townships in Kansas seventeen thousand dollars' worth of stock have died. As the disease spread from a herd of Texas cattle brought into Kansas, it is obviously contagious, considering, therefore, the great preparations that are now being made for the transportation of Western stock to the Eastern market, the danger of extending the plague is patent.

Hon. R. T. Daniel, the Democratic nominee for Attorney General of Virginia, has written a letter of acceptance to Hon. Thomas S. Bocock, President of the recent Richmond Convention. The letter is an eloquent vindication of Conservative principles, and scathing commentary on Southern Radicalism.

The Washington county (Md.) Daily states that John Frick, Jr., of Washington county, Md., was stung to death by bees on Thursday. He was ploughing in a field when a nest of bees was turned up, and they attacked the young man with such effect as to cause death in a short time.

It cost London a million dollars annually to water her streets. The principal part of the work is undertaken by a few large contractor, who employ some 1,500 horses and carts, with as many men, for thirty weeks in the year, at an outlay of three pounds per week for each horse, cart and man.

Professor Daniels, of Vermont, made a bet that he could look a ferocious bull out of countenance, and competent judges estimate that the Professor was thrown up twenty-seven feet. The Doctor was eventually saved by the courageous tenacity of his legs

THURSDAY.....AUGUST, 21, 1873.

THE FIRST ATTACK ON THE NORTH CAROLINA ORPHAN ASYLUM.

This is a strange world, and strange people live in it.

Little did the Grand Lodge of Masons imagine, when they donated the elegant and magnificent building of St. John's College for the use of the indigent orphans of the State, that their noble benefaction would be assailed from any quarter.

It was expected of course that not everybody would become interested in the Asylum, or contribute to the support of the great charity at Oxford. It was expected that the cold-hearted, the selfish, the unfeeling, and those whose sons are devoid of any impulse of benevolence and humanity, (for we must admit that such creatures are found scattered here and there over this broad earth,) would not, out of their abundance, give one mite to hush the famishing cry of the unfortunate children of poverty and helplessness. It was expected that some persons would refuse to help the cause of the orphans; because there are many living in affluence and splendor who have never tasted the bitter cup of orphanage, and who never knew the sorrows, the heart-sickness, the privations of those who have been compelled to drink that cup to its dregs.

While all this was expected the founders of the Asylum did not anticipate opposition from any source—much less an open attack on the newspapers, assailing their motives and misrepresenting the objects for which the institution was established.

In the last Piedmont Press an extract is given from a letter from an anonymous correspondent, which is a covert and unjust attack upon the Orphan Asylum, and to which the Editors of the Press reply in some well-timed and appropriate remarks. The Press contents itself with a short extract from the letter of its correspondent, and says the balance of the letter is in the same strain.

The object of the writer seems to be to convince the public that the Asylum is not worthy of aid and encouragement because it is the nursery of a particular church. He charges, what is news to the Superintendent and to the people of Oxford, that: "The religious training of the children is left exclusively to and under the sole management of the Episcopalians. And thus every waif that finds its way to this Asylum will be launched into the world a full fledged Episcopalian."

If any religious denomination would offer to feed, clothe, support and educate indigent orphan children, it would be an act pleasing in the eye of the Father of the orphan and the widow; and the Episcopal church or any other that would engage in the charitable work would be doing a noble and christian service.

But the statement is utterly untrue, as the Piedmont Press shows, that the Oxford Asylum is under sectarian or denominational influence. While the Superintendent is a Baptist, most of the other denominations are represented by the instructors in the several departments.

Everything has been done to make the institution non-sectarian in its character, and if the correspondent of the Piedmont Press had taken any pains to inform himself on the subject, he would have ascertained that the charges he makes are without the slightest foundation in fact, and grossly and shamefully unjust.

DISAFFECTION AMONG THE VIRGINIA RADICALS.

While the ranks of the Conservatives of Virginia are rapidly closing up and now present a united front to the enemy, it is gratifying to observe the work of disintegration that is going on in the Radical camp.

The Conservatives in that State who could not go Greeley, and who either refused to take any part in the election or voted openly for Grant, have come back to the true fold and are enthusiastic in their support of the Conservative ticket.

Such men as Wise, Mosby, et id omne genus, who at one time gave strong evidences that they had gone over to the Radicals, "horse, foot and dragoons," have retraced their steps so far as to announce their determination to oppose the Hughes ticket, and to assist the true men of the State in keeping Virginia out of the hands of the Radicals.

But this is not all. There is considerable disaffection at work in the very heart of the Radical party, and prominent Republicans in different sections of the State are expressing their dissatisfaction with the nominees put forward at the Lynchburg Convention. Colonel Beard, of Lynchburg, who has been a leading Radical canvasser in previous elections, Mr. Woltz, the Secretary of the Republican Executive Committee, Hon. Geo. E. Deneale, and others are announced as open opponents of Hughes, and will do what they can to defeat him. Col. Beard delivered an able speech a few days since at a large meeting in Lynchburg, in which he made some telling points against Hughes and the Radical party.

If this disintegration continues, the Virginia contest will become so one-sided that it will cease to excite public interest.

BOONE AS A SUMMER RESORT.

A correspondent of the Piedmont Press, writing from Boone, in this State, gives an interesting and well written account of the advantages of Boone as a summer resort.

The town of Boone, it ought to be named Booneville, is the capital of Watauga county, and is said to be the highest village east of the Rocky Mountains. It is three thousand, two hundred fifty feet above the level of the sea. We make the following extract from the letter of the Press correspondent, giving a description of the town and its surroundings:

"As you wind your way over ridges, and along the steep declivities of mountain after mountain, you begin to wonder where any place can be found for a village amid such crags and gorges. At length the scenery changes—rich pasture lands, and roving herds of grazing cattle attract the traveler, and suddenly you come upon this quiet but thriving little village, nestling in the head of a basin-shaped valley, surrounded by high ranges of imposing, forest-clad hills on the one side, and the spur of the Rich Mountains on the other. Howard's Gap, which is the passing point for these mountains northward, is 438 feet higher than the village of Boone, and but little more than a mile distant from it; while the adjacent peaks tower far above the "Gap," and being easily accessible, afford a pleasant and exhilerating ride to the beautiful views, and purer, upper air, obtained at their summits. The Booneites claim to have the most elevated town east of the Rocky Mountains, whether this be so or not, it is high enough for all climate purposes, it is 3,250 feet above the sea, which makes it about 200 feet higher than Jefferson, in Ashe county.

The Hotel is, at times, overflowing, and I have met here, within a few days, visitors from Raleigh, Fayetteville, Charlotte, Statesville, Davidson College, Lincolnton, Morganton, Lenoir and other points, some of whom are spending the summer in this village.

The climate is exceedingly fine—several degrees cooler than at points South of the Blue Ridge, also, what I had not expected, dryer and more bracing. Upon philosophical principles, I had supposed that the prevailing western winds would condense their moisture upon the western slopes of the Ridge, and render the climate damp, but I overlooked the fact that Boone is an elevated plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, and that the air in passing over the Alleghanies, which lie still further West, would be dried, and purified before it rolled down upon the quiet coves and valleys of Watauga. In fact the whole of Watauga county is a charming, Alpine country, 3,000 feet above the ocean, abounding in limpid brooks, and dashing waterfalls and lovely vales, and craggy cliffs, and mighty mountains; and is mantled by a hardy, industrious and honest yeomanry."

THE POLL-TAX QUALIFICATION.

The Hillsboro Recorder has an able article in favor of making the payment of poll-tax a pre-requisite for voting. The Recorder says:

"It should be no hardship for every voter to contribute equally with others to the support of government, and the expenses of the State. We have no idea of a large portion of the voting population of the State, hanging on to the skirts of society, enjoying all of its advantages and bearing none of its burdens, dictating our laws, and controlling the policy of the State, and counteracting the action of the tax-payers, those really interested in the permanent welfare of the Commonwealth."

We do not agree with the Recorder in the opinion, that there will be a unanimity of opposition from the Republicans on the proposition to require each voter to pay his poll-tax before he is allowed to deposit his ballot.

It is true that the Radicals in the East, white and colored, would oppose it; but we think that many Republicans in the West would favor it, for the same reason that they favored the constitutional amendments in the late election.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

The Hillsboro Recorder opposes compulsory education. In concluding an editorial on the subject in reply to a communication from Mr. Mills, in the RALEIGH NEWS, the Recorder says:

"And while we agree with Mr. Mills that there is much criminal neglect in this matter, and much irreparable wrong done to children by the remissness or avarice of parents, the remedy is not to be found in compulsion, but by individual effort, by the illustration of example, by force of argument. Ignorance is a foul blot upon our State, but we protest against the use of violence to wipe it out.

The fanatic outpourings of McCosh and his suggestion, that we should be put under the tutelage of the General Government, should arouse the opposition of all people, and put them on their guard against the admission of any more of government interference in our internal affairs."

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA.

North Carolina Watering Places—The Catawba White Sulphur—The Large Number of Visitors, &c.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.,
Monday, Aug. 18, 1873.

Dear News: Your kinsman, the Nation, declares that the maxim "'Tis better to wear out than to rust out," is "the invention of a Sabbathless and unvacationed Satan." So, determined to have nothing to do with the works of that inventor of all evil, I came off here a fortnight ago, and well have I been rewarded for so doing. I have found a beautiful place, a courteous host, an excellent table, delicious air, reviving waters, and most agreeable company. Although the visitors this year have been more than twice as numerous as they were last year, and they have included several of your brethren of the quill, yet I have searched the register in vain for your name. When I was at College the girls used to sing "Come to the sunset tree," so I say "come to the Sulphur Springs." Mrs. Wren's pie is attractive while yours is repulsive; here, we rejoice to think, is made on purpose and that to delight; it is but an aggravation of the torment to think that yours is made intentionally—it puts one in good humor with mankind to see hers every day—once a week is often enough for one to be scared by yours. So just lay aside your composing stick, which makes one sweat and come and take one, two, three of Dr. Elliott's composing draughts and sleep sweetly all night, and live dreamily all day, and take a new lease on life and then go back to enjoy it. The system which was imposed on the Jewish commonwealth by divine authority, would not let men work more than six days at a time, and forced the farmers to quit ploughing once in every seven years. So again I say quit composing for a while, and come and be composed. Leave the pie that distracts one's brain and get some that attracts one's tongue.

It does one good to see that North Carolinians are finding that entertaining sights and refreshing employments for the hot summer months can be found within their native State. Not that I would confine one's summer rambles to one's own neighborhood. But when one goes abroad he ought to be able to induce others to come and fill his place at home. I may scold North Carolina when I am near her; but I praise her to the skies when at a distance, and I take good care to furnish myself with good reasons for my praise. I know every point in the controversy about the Mecklenburg Declaration. I can expatiate on the attractions of these White Sulphur Springs—and I can assure visitors that Morgan's 300 exquisite stereoscopes of North Carolina scenery might have been 3,000 and the half not then told. By-the-way, all North Carolinians with stereoscopes ought to have a dozen or so of these truly artistic pictures; those without, ought to get one in order that they may learn what beautiful scenes can be found at and near home.

As I intimated above, this watering place is evidently growing in favor. It is very accessible. The eight miles between it and Hickory on the W. N. C. R. R. is traversed by means of a capital road, with only one hill that must prevent a horse from trotting, and the entertainment here ought to prevent grumbling. The company has been of the best our State affords. The Hon. K. P. Battle and family, Col. John Hoke and family, Judge Clarke and family, Senator Ransom and family, and Major Winston, Dr. Meares, Col. J. L. Brown, Dr. Mott, the Rev. Mr. Hudson, Mr. Edwin Holt and their families, Dr. Phillips, of Davidson College, Col. L. Steele, of Arkansas, Dr. J. B. Jones of Charlotte, with merchants and lawyers and farmers, and manufacturers from Augusta and Charleston and Wilmington and Newbern, have been or are still here, and we have much to arouse us and to instruct; delightful singing do the ladies give us. The porches, the pavilion and the cool shade resound the discussions about the elections and its probable results, our University and its prospects, the Granges and their futures, the labor question and its various solutions, the Southern Security Company and what it is after, Immigration and its chances, Education and the methods of securing it tucking combs, and how long since they were fashionable. Above I mentioned the good things for the body which Dr. Elliott provides for his guests. And now I have assured you that you can find here also "the feast of reason and the flow of soul."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ears or tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally, this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:
"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from Sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an aperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 21, 1873.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Many invalids are sojourning at Hicks' Tavern.

Peaches are very scarce in the Rutherfordton market.

The Rutherford county jail has only one prisoner within its walls.

The cotton crop in the neighborhood of Chapel Hill is said to be splendid.

Mr. William Wallace, of Mecklenburg county, was badly bitten in the face last week by a vicious horse.

Gen. Rufus Barringer, of Charlotte, has been called to the bedside of his mother, Hon. D. M. Barringer, who is very ill at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, Va.

The masquerade ball at the Ocean House, Beaufort, on Friday, was a gay and enjoyable affair. It was given for the benefit of the Lee Memorial Society, and was largely attended.

On Monday afternoon, eight miles below Wilmington, a colored man named Robert Williams fell overboard the steamer "Northeast" and was drowned before assistance could reach him.

Jim Dial, alias Locklear, who recently killed Floyd Oxendine, in Robeson county, has been proclaimed an outlaw. It is the general opinion that Dial was not confederated with Steve Lowery in the killing of Oxendine.

Says the West-Carolina Record (Ruthverdton,) of the 16th inst: "From a private letter from Hon. Silas N. Martin, who is now in New York, we learn that the position is submitted by him to the Board of Directors of the Carolina Central Railway Company, to extend the road to this place, provided this county will issue the balance of the bonds subscribed by the county to the W. C. & R. Railroad—being some $ .5,- out of $30,000."

Says the Newbern Times of the 19th inst.:

"Lige. Bowen, aged about fifteen years, fell through the Trent river railroad bridge on Saturday night last, while crossing from this city to James City, and was drowned.

The body was recovered on Sunday morning near where she had fallen in the river. The fish had eaten her face considerably, otherwise the body was perfect, and was buried on Sunday evening near the river shore, at James City.

The Carter murder case continues to be the source of excitement in Wilmington. At last accounts (18th inst.,) the examination was still being pressed. The evidence of David Martin is exceedingly contradictory, and it is a serious question if he was not the ringleader, if not the sole participant, in the atrocious murder. From what we can glean from the reported evidence in the Wilmington papers of the 19th inst., we are inclined to the opinion that the boy Martin has been swift to convict the two other colored boys of a crime of which he is as guilty, and probably more so, as they. As to the guilt of Mrs. Carter, the murdered boy's step-mother, that rests on David Martin's testimony, and as he has lied so palpably throughout, what he says must be taken with many grains of allowance. We regret we cannot reproduce the evidence, but it is too voluminous.

Historical Reminicences.

The Wilmington Star, of the 19th inst., has the following article containing highly interesting historical reminiscences of the vicinity in which poor little Willie Carter was so brutally murdered:

"On Sunday afternoon after Church, when the account given by the Star of the place where the murder was committed had had time to circulate, a large number of our citizens went up the railroad track towards Smith's Creek, and following the description already given in our columns, found no difficulty in discovering the spot. Leaving the railroad at the point where the fatal knife was sharpened you descend a narrow path and reach a spring of clear, cool water, gushing from the earth at the foot of a cedar, and at the base of a long hill. Thence towards the creek still descending into the valley, and encumbered with a mass of tangled undergrowth, this path proceeds until it suddenly debouches at the very landing where the tragedy took place, and terminates at the pine described in our last article. From this point another path proceeds along the creek and through a similar undergrowth to another landing about fifty yards from the first, thence it winds along an ancient mill-dam, constantly encumbered by the overhanging boughs of cedars, hickory, willow and other trees, until a clear space is reached, a somewhat elevated field, towering in the midst of which, solitary and alone, there stands an ancient cedar, a somewhat remarkable object in the surrounding landscape. This whole place is full of local incident and historical reminiscences. At the second landing we have described, during the war of 1861, a man employed as an engineer upon the railroad and entitled to exemption from military duty as a British subject, named Childress, having been seduced under the pretext of a walk, was foully murdered by two pretended friends, his papers seized, his money appropriated and his mutilated corpse, cut and hacked with knives, was cast into the creek.

Behind the tall and lonely cedar we have described there stood, twenty-three years ago, a rude but commodious log cabin, surrounded by fruit trees and a vineyard, several large beds of strawberries and canteloupes. This building was covered with an overhanging roof and upright weather boarding. The inside was neatly plastered and whitewashed. Two sides of the room were occupied with book shelves, filled with costly and rare works upon philosophical and medical subjects of the highest authority, in German, French and English. A little cot occupied one side. In the remaining space there was a table, one or two chairs, and a number of rare philosophical instruments. This was the residence of a very remarkable character, Dr. Jos. Togno, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, a man of extraordinary culture and genius, commonly supposed to have been a Frenchman, but really a native of Corsica. The same individual, who, upon the trial of Lucretia Chapman for murder in Burks county, Pa., in the year 1831, being a witness for the defence, had enabled David Paul Brown, by his single unaided opinion and testimony upon a scientific point, to achieve the most brilliant professional triumph he had ever won, and who upon that trial had been complimented in turn by that distinguished advocate, in language never surpassed for beauty of diction and high wrought eulogy. This is also the place where this same "elderly gentleman, standing at the roadside uncovered, his right hand resting on a small pine, hung with emblems of mourning, with his two servants standing behind him," attracted the notice of a historical funeral corteye as it passed southward on its melancholy errand in April, 1850, and formed the subject of special notice in the memorial services of the lamented Calhoun.

In a field close by, there is also buried one of the heroes of the American revolution. We are told by an old citizen that somewhere in these woods there may yet be found his monument. Some of these days, when sick of the city's dust and the tragedies we have recently had to relate, ye local shall be in search of an item, he intends to take pencil and paper and maybe resuscitate the memorics of the deceased General and the times in which he lived."

[For the Raleigh News.

BREVITIES ON CÆSARISM—6.

Who in America would have a Cæsar?

5. The interest bearing debt of the United States is about $2,000,000,000. That sum of money is at least, ten times greater than the whole real and personal property of the State of North Carolina. Wealth is a great power in controlling the affairs of nations. True, a large proportion of the bonds that constitute the body of this debt are owned in Europe, but if there be any danger from them to the Republic, the fact that their owners live in Europe makes them none the less dangerous. In their character as property, they are as potent to affect the affairs of this country, from their homes beyond the seas, as if their owners were citizens of the Republic.

It has been often charged that a large minority of the people of the United States wish to repudiate their bonded debt. The Democrats of the North are accused of nurturing secret opposition to its payment; and the controlling element of eleven Southern States is regarded, by most of these bond-holders, as ready always to renounce their part of the obligation.

We do not think there is any danger of this repudiation. We believe the Republic will pay the last mill of its bonded debt, with scrupulous punctuality. But it cannot be denied that the bond-holders have some apprehensions on the subject. They would willingly exchange the bonds of the Republic for those of the Empire. The people might some day refuse to tax themselves. They think they could always and easily induce a Cæsar to tax his subjects to pay an honest debt; and the bonds would be better property if there existed this power of compulsory payment.

These bonds, too, are owned, in great part, by intelligent people, comparatively small in number, capable of acting in concert and in the practice of taking part in the control of nations from behind the curtain, and capable on occasions of planning as well as of paying for the establishment of an Empire.

RUSTICUS.

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it as an invaluable remedy in these attacks. It has not failed to give relief in any instance.

DOUBLE ACTING FORCE PUMPS
KITCHEN BROS.,
(Successors to CAROLINA PUMP COMPANY, LOCATED IN RALEIGH.)

Are prepared to furnish at short notice the Kitchen Pumps of various sizes with Porcelain Cylinders which insure fine water. This is a submerged deep well pump, now in use 2½ years without the expense of new packing. We make all sizes, capacity 30 to 150 gallons water per minute, working in every conceivable way and by the use of hose which can be attached in half a minute, these pumps at once become a hand engine of great power, throwing water on the roof of three story buildings, with one hand, and they will stand four to six men safely. We have not heard of one of them being overcome by fire, and yet they have been tested by over fifty fires, saving over $500,000 worth of property. For ordinary use children work them easily if set up by our printed directions, and if so set we warrant them 12 months. Our Double Suction and Force Globe Pumps, also invented by J. L. Kitchen is capable of being used as a Drive well pump and is well adapted to steamers and vessels of any class; one man can throw water on the roof of 3 story buildings. But it has a double ended lever and with four men is a very superior hand engine. The No. 2 Globe Pump is 12 inches in Diameter with 1½ suction and 1¼ discharge pipe and throws 40 to 100 gallons per minute, according to speed. The No. 3 Globe, 7 inches in diameter, 1 inch suction and ¾ of an inch of discharge pipe, capable of 25 to 30 gallons per minute. These Globe Pumps we make of cast iron for common use, brass for salt water and block tin for the inside of houses, for drinking water, they lift the water 25 feet perpendicular, and you can sit it in the house and draw water from springs or wells at great distances.

All kinds of steam and water pipes fitted at short notice; hose, hose-pipes and couplings furnished here, &c.

Send for price list. The entire depth of wells with good references must accompany all orders.

Some few of these pumps have not given satisfaction but in each case it has been attributable to the maker and not the principle of the pump. We are now employing the best mechanics only, and are determined to have none other.
Address KITCHEN BROS.,

The Late Geo. N. Sanders.

George N. Sanders, who was so well known some twenty-five years since in American politics as the champion of young American Democracy, and later for his exertion in the cause of the Confederacy, died suddenly at his residence in New York city Tuesday morning. He was surrounded by the members of his family at the moment of his dissolution, which occurred in the sixty-sixth year of his age.

The deceased was born in Lexington, Kentucky: on the 21st of February, 1812. His father, Lewis Sanders, was much esteemed throughout the West, and his grandfather, Colonel George Nicholas, became known as the proposer of the Kentucky resolutions and the successful advocate of the adoption of the Federal Constitution by Virginia against the opposition of Patrick Henry. The introduction into political life of George N. Sanders was the organization of the first mass meeting in favor of the annexation of Texas to the United States. He was American consul at London under President Pierce, and navy agent at New York under President Buchanan. His sympathies and efforts all through the war between the States were with the South, and it was through him and the late Horace Greeley that the famous "peace negotiation" were attempted at Niagara, which Mr. Lincoln declined. As Confederate agent in Europe and also in Canada, Mr. Sanders rendered efficient service to the South. He was a man of generous impulses and social habits, which made him a great favorite with all with whom he came in contact. Among his warmest personal friends be numbered some of the leading Republican politicians of the country.

Twenty-eight Chinese women imported for slaves arrived at San Francisco a short time since, and the women, gaudily decked out for the auction block, were taken to the house of a leading Chinese merchant, who had bought them in Hong Kong on a speculation. The sale took place on one of the principal Chinese alleys, and, as might be expected, created a great flutter of excitement among the Chinese merchants, brothel-keepers and wealthy roues, the consignment being, from a Chinese standpoint, superior in beauty to that of any yet received. The bidding was spirited, and the young and prepossessing beauties brought sums ranging from $300 to $400, while one olive-hued, almond-eyed, dainty-footed and flat-nosed girl, just entering her teens, was knocked down to an ugly, lecherous, toothless old Mongolian for $575. The old ones brought from $125 to $250. These Chinese women have no scruples in being thus disposed of, and religiously believe that they are as solemnly bound to their purchaser as though united by the bonds of wedlock, and therefore transfer their affections with the most remarkable ease from one master to another.

VALUE OF AN OPIUM LICENSE.—The Honolulu Gazette of the 4th says: "The sale of opium licenses on Saturday last drew a crowd to the auction-room of Mr. Bartow. Aftir disposing of some leases of real estate, one opium license was put up, starting at $2,000, and rapidly advanced to $12,000, at which figure it was knocked down to Loongok, the same party who had it last year. The second license was then offered, which was started at $5,000, and advanced to $16,000, at which figure it was knocked down to Aswan, making $28,000 to be paid for the privilege of drugging the people of Hodolulu with opium for one year. It is understood that both licenses were purchased by a ring, composed of a number of Chinese, who were determind to control the sale of opium. It shows what the profits must be in this trade."
